Lirole (Ophiopogon) is the answer where an easily grown disease resistant border plant is needed—it grows in sun or right up to trees in shade. Foliage is grass like but broader, grows 12 to 15 inches and produces attractive lavender-purple flowers on spikes during late summer and fall. For landscape work, borders, planters, or containers. Hardy, semi-evergreen.

U. S. PLANT PAT. NO. 1747

EXTREMELY HARDY—survives drought conditions, transplants easily, highly resistant to insects and diseases.

UNUSUALLY TOUGH—very resistant to breakage from strain of ice or wind.

MOST SERVICEABLE—produces a quick shade, may be planted close to residences without danger of heavy over hanging limbs, is uniformly branched and densely foliated.

HANDSOME AND STATELY—compact, grows rapidly without producing an unsightly whippy top and has a non-crotching straight central trunk.

EXCELLENT LAWN TREE—grows to a medium height (35 to 50 ft.), very tolerant of soil conditions, leaves 3 to 3½ inches long of a lively green color.

A SENSATIONAL NEW "FIRST" IN QUICK SHADE

- First Hybrid Elm to receive a United States Plant Patent.
- First selection of an improved form of the original Elm Coolshade introduced in 1946.
- A first in a rapid growing tree that can be recommended to compete with hard wood qualities.
